DF 95 second day sailing commences this coming Sunday at Emerald Lakes with set up at Midday and sailing under way at 12.30 pm we should complete 12 races by 3.30 pm. There will be a couple 10-minute breaks for gear repair, sail changes, but no lunch period. People who are interested in sailing 95 s are welcome to come along, the majority of sailing will be scratch racing to start with, and once we have a couple of Sundays under our belt additions and alterations will be open for discussion and implementation

3, Spare Parts and New Boats, -- Good News

Phil Burgess the recently reelected President of the Australian DF Association, (congratulations Phil) maintains a regular contact with proprietor of Hobby Warehouse the primary distributor of Joysway Dragon Force yachts . He recently was advised a large container of stock is about to arrive and it is suggested to those looking for parts or wish to purchase new boats, keep an eye of their ( HWH ) website for stock availability as from the last few days in November. In the meantime members who are looking for parts, please ask others within our group as they may have items immediately available that will keep you on the water

4, Excellent Suggestion

Now that the summer months of hot fine sunny weather has arrived there is a very high risk to us all to develop Skin Cancer issues in these conditions. Therefore, it is very important we all take precautions, Graham Cowling has recently found an excellent Sun Screen product, called “Protection beyond the Flags “which has a rating of SPF 50 + , is sweat resistant, Non Greasy and once spray applied become touch dry quickly . The spray application by aerosol can is ideal. It is an Australian made product that has received endorsement from The Australian Surf Life Saving Association. The 175-gram cans are available from BCF stores nationwide at a retail cost of $18 per can, a small investment to arrest Skin Cancer.
