

DF 95 Group News Update No 24

November 2022

2022 has been a great year for DF 95 Sailing, with large fleets and competitive racing

Hi DF 95 Skippers & Friends,

During the month of October, we managed to compete the Club Scratch and Handicap championship 10 monthly race day sailing programme despite the numerous days of cancellation due to wet weather or flooding at Emerald Lakes. Interest from our fleet to race in these club championships has increased over previous years as the members knowledge and sailing skills have improved which in turn has created a more competitive spirit among the experienced 95 skippers.

Our fleet numbers also have over this past year been boosted by club members from other classes buying and racing 95s in our club race days, such is the interest in DF 95 s not only here in Australia but around the world. It is interesting to note that the principal Distributor of DF Boats here in Australia, Hobby Warehouse report they are currently selling 30 to 34 new boats every month and over 62 % are DF 95 s. So as our fleet grows it raises a number of issues, we as a class and as a club need to be aware of and take the time to address.

These are:

- As the fleet number increase, we therefore have a mixture of skilled / experienced and no so skilled new people to our sport of radio sailing together in a competitive environment which in turn increases boat contacts, due mainly to lack of rules knowledge and sailing experience, hence the need to consider splitting the fleet into 2 or even 3 groups based on competency.

- Devoting more time to helping the newer and less skilled skippers with improving their knowledge of the sailing rules and working on their sailing skills, as breaches of the rules, possible boat damaged from contacts, plus lack of sailing enjoyment all lead to loss of interest, reduced fleet sizes etc.
- It is possible now is the time we have a hard long look at our sailing programme, consider split fleets, the number of actual sailing days per week, and place more emphasis on training, teaching and assisting new members to our fleet and our club gain the knowledge and the skills to compete with others on an equal footing
- It also may time to offer just come and enjoy your radio sailing day, with no prizes or trophy's, just plain old let's have some fun. And use this one a day a week or fortnight to help train and assist this skipper gain competency. Then when they reach, they move up in the fleet rankings to sail in our club's competitive race programme. Similar to the Motor sport where you have to qualify to drive an F1 race car.

I am please to say your club Commodore Rex Scott and the committee are aware of this situation as it effects all classes and they are aware attention to these matter needs to be addressed, so in the new year we should hear what plans and changes will take place in the 2023 season.

No 3, DF 95 Group Member Profile:

This month we have another senior member of our Fleet to profile, a quiet achiever a man who is always attends, a man who is always a willing helper especially to other members, a person who is held in high esteem by his peers a man with immerse well earn't respect.

Kevin Harris, Sail No 15.

Kevin Harris a top 10 finisher , the groups quiet achciver , whos efforts are well respected

Kevin Harris sailing/boating history:

I started sailing at the age of 12, after convincing my father to buy me a Moth Mark 11 yacht, a far cry from todays lightweight modern foiling boats, being reasonably heavy for its 12ft size with its timber mast which was like a tree stump.

Initially I learned to sail on Albert Park Lake, Melbourne, under the direction of Bill Hooper who was in those days a guru of sail training. After 2 years on Albert Park Lake I progressed to Blairgowrie Yacht Squadron on the southern end of Port Philip Bay, where I was fortunate enough to be introduced to Keelboat sailing. Around age 18, I again persuaded my father that we needed a keelboat, and my family purchased a 22ft Bluebird racing/cruising keelboat. I successfully raced this yacht for a number of years, in the Blairgowrie fleet, competing in round the bay races and general Club racing.

I became friendly with many different keelboat owners and made some long-time friends, including the Cosgriff family (Michael). Looking for a challenge, my family purchased the hull of a Tasman 26 which was placed in my backyard in Melbourne, where I spent 9 months fitting out the interior, before launching at St. Kilda. We also sailed the Tasman at Blairgowrie, competing in the same Club races with good success.

In 1977 I was invited to sail on a Farr 1104 keelboat that was to compete in the Sydney to Hobart Yacht race. I excitedly took up the invitation and joined the crew, however, I was not the ideal crew member in this race, as I succumbed to sea sickness for approximately half the race. The seasick pills I took obviously did not work, and I have never taken them since!.

Over subsequent years I have competed on a variety of keelboats, in eight Sydney Hobart races

(only completing 6 due to boat failures). In 1984, 24 hours after leaving Sydney heads in very heavy weather, we lost the mast due to a rigging failure. Secondly in 2004, some 60 miles into Bass Strait, the steering equipment started to fail, again in heavy weather, and had to return to Eden for repairs. Some of the boats I have sailed on include – “Winston Churchill” - a timber Yawl built in Tasmania by Percy Coverdale, unfortunately now under the control of Davy Jones somewhere off the South Coast of NSW (1998 Sydney/Hobart). “Cotton Blossom” - 52ft Farr.

“Once More Dear Friends” - a DuBois 40. “Lady Godiva” – a Nautor-Swan 60, “Dancing Lady”- a Farr 38. “Ponyo” - a Farr 40. “Belle” - a IY60. “Damel” - a Farr 1104. “Cruz Control” - a Santa Cruise 52 and “Nizam” - a DK46. I have also competed in club racing on the 100 year old designCouta Boat “Bella” at Sorrento Sailing Club, Melbourne. Being a gaff rigged sailboat with a huge mainsail for its size, it is reasonably difficult to manage taking up to 8 crew members on a 28ft boat. Over the years I have also competed in five Melbourne to Devonport races, three Melbourne Hobart races down the West Coast of Tasmania, two Pittwater Coffs races, two Melbourne Sydney races, one Sydney Mooloolaba race, one Melbourne Vanuatu race, one Brisbane Noumea race and numerous delivery trips including crossing the Tasman - Sydney to Auckland, Auckland to Noumea, Auckland to Mackay, Vanuatu to Mackay and many east coast deliveries between

Melbourne and Cairns. I have also competed in at least 20 Whitsunday Regattas over the years in various keelboats. I also helped with a survey on a 60ft yacht which was eventually purchased by a friend in Marseilles, France and then cruised the Mediterranean from Marseilles to Monaco to Sardinia Genoa, Italy, where I put the yacht on a float on float off ship for delivery to Brisbane.

In more recent years, I have spent a lot of time managing/skippering two power boats, assisting with their operation, one being a 75ft cruiser the other a 98ft superyacht. With these two particular boats again, I have skippered and assisted in cruises ranging from Melbourne to the far reaches of the Kimberly area in WA, with some amazing opportunities to see the most remote and beautiful parts of Australia. We also circumnavigated Tasmania with the 75ft power boat and travelled into the amazing Macquarie Harbour, Gordon River, and Port Davey.

I am still involved with the bigger power boats, and recently with a DK46 keelboat. We will be racing the DK46 in all the Whitsunday Regattas again next year – Airlie Beach, Hamilton Island and Magnetic Island.

In the last few years I have been introduced to radio controlled yacht sailing primarily through my friend, Frank Arrowsmith. I subsequently bought a DF95 yacht and started to learn the finer points of radio controlled sailing with the help of many PRYC members. Not being able to sit on the actual boat and manage the operations, I initially found it quite daunting, however the more time you spend, the better you become. Over time I have managed to be able to sail competitively within the group, hopefully not causing too much drama.

Radio controlled sailing, especially the DF95 boats, allows people of all ages and experience to be involved in the sport of sailing/racing and to compete equally.

Now that I am semi retired I enjoy sailing the DF95 whenever I can and am lucky enough to have my adult son, Simon become involved with the DF95 group as well.

Thank you

Kevin Harris

Handicap Race Results

We see our handicap racing as a very important part of our fleets sailing activities as it give the newer skippers an opportunity to race with the top skippers and have the chance to finish within the top 10. Hence handicap racing does produce larger fleets and is eagerly awaited by many skippers.

This season attracted some 27 boats again the racing was over a windward leeward course of 2 laps . Our season winners were, in 1 st place John Musgrave sail no 222 with 28 points, in 2 nd place Mike Cosgriff sail No 99 with 33 points and in 3 rd place Graham Cowling sail No 884 with 38 points, Congratulations guys well done and it clearly shows you must sail in all round to ensure a top placing in both Scratch and Handicap events.

Finally a big thank you to Graham Cowling for doing all of our race results this season, it is apity he has decided to retire from this role at the end of the year, so we will be looking for somebody else to take on this task please.

No 3, Club News & Information:

- As mentioned at the last few race days the committee have introduced a request to keep the pathway at Emerald Lakes clear for the public and cyclists to have unencumbered access, so we now must ensure the Gazebo is erected at least 3 metres from the path on the road side, All seated sailers must now be accommodated between the path and water on the grass verge and all skippers who wish to walk between the control area boundaries must remain on the grass on the roadside of the pathway. The only time skippers can walk over or along the pathway is to launch or retrieve their boats. This request is made to all skippers following complaints from the public who use the pathway to ensure no accidents occur.
- Important dates to record in your diaries please, Saturday the 12th and Sunday the 13th of November your club is hosting the Queensland IOM Championship 2 day regatta (GP4) Volunteers are required and you are asked to help and assist if you are available. Please send Bill Clancey our sailing secretary an email offering your services. The Clubs Christmas end of year function and presentation day is set down for Saturday the 10th of December from 11.30 am until 2.30 pm again to be held at the VMR at Southport , those of you keen to attend can you please let me know, wives and partners are most welcome.
- Hobby Warehouse in stock: A recent check of their website confirms their parts order has arrived , so those of you wishing to buy selected parts , now is the time to go on line and place your orders. Also I am advised they have plenty of complete new boats in stock at this time..
- Teds spare parts: I recently received this email from club member Ted Mulligan advising he is about to place another order for 6.6 v 850 mAh rechargeable batteries, those of you wish to purchase please send Ted an email.

Hi all, Still showing Out of Stock at Hobby Warehouse - 6.6V 850mAh DF65/DF95 RX Life Rechargeable Battery $14.50 +freight of $7.95

If anyone is committed to buying these (same type – from elsewhere), let me know and I will get started on another order.

COST: LiFe battery $14.50 each – no freight - can be collected from my house or delivered to you at Em. Lks Tue & Sat, when I'm at sailing for DF65s.

- New jetties: The Builder has now completed the construction of the three new Launching pontoons' the club has worked with the Gold Coast City Council to have built. The club over a number of years has put funding in place as our contribution to the overall cost of this excellent facility your club now has. Please remember while they are there for our use, the public are able to use them when they are not in use, again we need to be respectful when asking members of the public to vacate on days when we wish to use them.

- Watch for this stolen boat: Recent the Coomera Radio Yacht Club has their Rescue Boat, Outboard, Road trailer, Alloy launching ramp, Life jackets, oars and other equipment stolen. They believed the boat, motor and trailer have been on sold to an unsuspecting Gold Coast resident as it has been seen in the southport area being towed by a Black Nissen X-Trail. If you see this boat , motor and trailer can you please let me know when, where and what time please. A picture of the vehicles number plate and that on the trailer would be greatly appreciated.

- Last days sailing for 2022: Several Group Members have asked when will be the last day of Sailing for the DF 95 Fleet for this current year. Sunday the 18 th of December, it is planned to have an early start 10.30 set up , racing underway at 11.00 am until 2.00 pm, followed by a christmas Lunch at The Back Page Bar at 2.30 pm. The 2023 Season is planned at this stage to recommence from Friday the 13 th of January.
- Rules of Sailing made easy to understand: You all would have received from me a couple of Large emails containing five individual Modules detailing specific rules that govern our Radio sailing, these excellently prepared documents were kindly put together by our Sailing Sectrary Bill Clancy and they are designed to help us all clearly understand the obligations we have as skippers to ensure all the rules of sailing are adhered to. I commend to you all to spent a little time reading these and answering the questions presented by Bill so you improve your knowledge. If any of Paradise Radio Yacht Club (Inc).

RACING RULES OF SAILING WORKSHOP
2021 – 2024

MODULAR 5 - Part 2 section B – GENERAL LIMITATIONS
RRS 17 – ON THE SAME TACK; PROPER COURSE

you would like another copy please let me know . To date nobody has commented on these most helpful documents , which is a shame as your club are trying to help you understand and improve your Rules knowledhge so when on water situations occur, disputes, bad launagaur and agumants between skippers is minimised and and our sailing enjoyment is enhanced. Please remember we all had to learn the road code and sit and exam to earn our drivers licence, so there is no difference really.

Kind Regards to you all , see you on the water,

Ron Brown
